Persons Married by
Rev. Jeremiah Hubbard

March 28, 1880 - Jan 17, 1915

Marriages Performed by

Jeremiah Hubbard "Uncle Jerry." From Mar 28, 1880 - Jan 17, 1915. He died in February of 1915. Rev. Hubbard was known as Uncle Jerry Hubbard, he performed many earlier marriages and it should be noted that he died February 1915, less than one month after the last marriage recorded here from his book, "Forty Years Among the Indians."

Born Apr 7, 1837, near the town of Lewisville Indiana, in Henry County to Josephhard and Matilda Johnson Hubbard. He was of Indian extraction. Jeremiah in the fall of 1858 was married to Mary G. Sheward, daughter of Isaac Sheward and Louisa Sheward. In 1878 he started on his journey as a teacher, then preacher missionary. When he started as a missionary to the Indians there were no railroads or public highways. A pale face was rare, and was accepted some places and resented others. He became known as the "Marrying Quaker preacher."

He was known for appreciating a good meal, and believing it was rude to refused breaking bread with families that ask him, was able to eat three suppers in one night. A social and well loved man.

He performed many marriage on his journeys into Indian Territory before he started keeping records. Many of the weddings were with Indians. He stated in his book, "Forty Years among the Indians," that it was to be remarked that when an Indian was converted he immediately wished to conform to the Christian Marriage Ceremony, no matter how long the couple had been married in the Indian Tradition, or how many children they had.

Uncle Jerry Hubbard and his wife Mary G. Hubbard are buried in the G.A.R. Cemetery, Miami Oklahoma.

Children of the Hubbards are mentioned in the Preface of his book, and are listed by names as: Henrietta Hubbard, Erastus Hubbard, Holton Hubbard, Edna Hubbard and Harry Hubbard. He says that he married "his oldest son, Erastus H. Hubbard on Feb 29, 1888 at Wyandotte Indian Territory to Harriet A. Jackson and that they later lived in Miami. He also married his youngest son, Harry K. Hubbard, to Clyde Rockwell at the home of her father, Henry Rockwell, in Miami. but no date is given.

There is no further mention of these children in the book. Later he stated that while living in New London they lost two children, a boy and a girl, with no dates or ages given. Still later in the book he states that they had two children buried in the Wyandotte graveyard. Again that is all the information given. There were 9 children mentioned, but the findagrave.com information says they had 10 children, but are not at this time (12-11-2016) linked to any of their children.

The marriage records were researched, organized and printed by Shirley Earp Mahurin

Records are from Jeremiah Hubbard's book, Pre-Statehood Local Newspapers and after statehood from the marriage records located in the Miami Oklahoma County Courthouse.
